Miss Green taught physics (物理) in a London school. Last month she was explaining to one of her classes about sound, and she decided to test them to see how well she had been in her work. She said to them, "Now, I have a sister in Washington. If I was calling her on the telephone, and at the same time you were 20 meters away, and listened to me from the other side of the street. Who would hear what I said earlier, my sister or you? And why?"

The cleverest boy at once answered, "Your sister, Miss Green, because electricity (电) travels faster than sound waves (波)."

"That's very good," Miss Green answered. But then one of the girls put up her hand. Miss Green said, "Yes, Betty?"

"I don't think so," Betty said, "Your sister would hear you earlier because when it's eleven o'clock here, it's six o'clock in Washington."

31. Miss Green was teaching the class
- A. to her sound B. about sound
