作文范文

We have recently held a class meeting to discuss the pressure upon every one of us senior three students. All of us were active in the discussion, expressing our own views freely. Generally, most of us feel we are expected to enter good universities, which puts us under great pressure.

Certainly, too much pressure results in side effects on our study. However, a good learner needs some pressure to ensure him constant advance. No pressure, no motivation!

Each time I feel stressed about unsatisfying learning results, I'll put aside my books to refresh myself. If possible, I'll leave the classroom, staying alone for a few minutes. Personally, it's a good way to release your pressure by shouting to the open air or doing some sports, in which you can forget all your anxieties, so that you can devote yourself to learning efficiently.

Text 1

W: My shoes are broken. Can you fix them for me?

M: Sure, Miss. I'll do it as soon as possible.

W: But I need them now. I'm in a terrible hurry.

M: All right. I'll do it in just a minute.

Text 2

M: Is this the check-in counter for Flight 814 to Los Angeles?

W: Yes, but I'm sorry to tell you the flight is delayed because of rain. Please wait for further notice.

Text 3

M: How about going for a bike ride?

W: Sure. Where?

M: Let's call Harry and ask him. He always knows the best places to go.

W: That's a good idea. I'll get ready.

Text 4

W: Tom's father agrees with him to play football but the time is within an hour.

M: That's the best news I have heard today. We will have a best player in our team.

Text 5

W: I like watching TV plays in my spare time. But there are always so many advertisements.

M: Don't you think of the design of advertisements is a kind of art?

Text 6

W: I am so excited! At this time tomorrow morning, grandpa will be sitting in the kitchen with us.

M: When does he arrive?

W: At six o'clock this evening.

M: By plane?

W: No, by train.

M: Are we picking him up at the station?

W: No. He doesn't want anybody to pick him up. He likes to be independent.

M: Oh, let's go upstairs and prepare grandpa's room.

W: Right! Let's do it!

Text 7

W: Do you know there is a football match tonight between Brazil and England? It will be a close match, right? I can't wait for it.

M: Tonight? Exact time? Oh, I am too busy with my driving test. I don't know the details at all recently.

W: To be exact, one o'clock in the morning. Don't you want to watch it? You are learning to drive a car. Sorry, but you need a good rest.

M: My God. But remember to call me this evening, will you? I don't want to miss the most exciting game between the two teams.

Text 8

W: Hello, John, my computer's stopped working! Well, not completely, but it doesn't start up sometimes.

M: You mean nothing on the screen?

W: I switched it on this morning and there was a strange noise and nothing on the screen.

M: Hum.

W: I turned it off and tried again and it worked okay until a few minutes ago. Then the screen went dark.

M: Any unusual noise?

W: Yes. The strange noise started again.

M: Is it switched on?

W: Yes.

M: Okay. Now, try shaking the connectors between the computer and the screen.

W: Ah, it's back. The screen's up again. Oh, I see, the connector was loose.

Text 9

W: Hi. Mr. Gasbag? I'm Mrs. Peterson, I'd like to have a look at this house.

M: Nice to meet you. Come in, please. Let me show you the place. The place is very convenient, as it's only a five-minute walk from the nearest underground railway station.

W: That's right.

M: This way, please. We've got a new fridge in the kitchen. And the bathroom we have 24-hour hot water.

W: This must be the bedroom. Oh, my Goy! I love that French window. The sunshine makes me feel good.

M: I'm glad to hear that, Mrs. Peterson. And this is a very safe building, too.

W: That's good. The advertisement says the rent is 320 a month, right? Could you think about giving me a break on that price?

M: I'm afraid I can't decide it. You should decide the price with the landlord instead of me. He'll be here tomorrow.

W: Many thanks. I'd like to talk it over with my husband this evening. After all, it's a good place.

Text 10

M: Good morning. I am Professor Armstrong, and I am your laboratory instructor. This class is intended as a necessary part of the course. This class will meet twice a week. This laboratory begins at nine. And do not arrive late and interrupt your neighbor. You may as well not come if you can't be on time. Attendance is equally important. If you miss three lab classes, you're dropped from the labs. You can't complete the course without completing the lab. Besides, safety is key here. It's very important to keep things neat and clean, dress properly, and be careful. You may not eat, drink or smoke in the laboratory and you should always clean the counter and wash your hands both before and after the class. Long hair must be tied back. Large clothing must not be worn. Any laboratory accident must be reported immediately.
