Some birds like eating locusts. But birds cannot easily catch them.
Why? It is because locusts change their colours together with the change of colours of crops. V	Vhen crops are green, locusts look green. But as the harvest time comes, locusts change to the same by	own colour as crops have. Some other pests with different colours from plants are easily found and	aten by others. So they have to hide themselves for lives and appear only at night.
If you study the animal life, you'll find the main use of colours is protecting them. Bears, lions	and other animals move quietly through forests. They cannot be seen by hunters. This is because they	have the colours much like the trees.
