第一节（共 15 小题；每小题 2 分，满分 30 分）

A

At thirteen, I was diagnosed(诊断)with a kind of attention disorder. It made school difficult for me. When everyone else in the class was focusing on tasks, I could not.

In my first literature class, Mrs. Smith asked us to read a story and then write on it, all within 45 minutes. I raised my hand right away and said, "Mrs. Smith, you see, the doctor said I have attention problems. I might not be able to do it."

She glanced down at me through her glasses, "you are not different from your classmates, young man."

I tried, but I didn't finish the reading when the bell rang. I had to take it home.

In the quietness of my bedroom, the story suddenly all became clear to me. It was about a blind person, Louis Braille. He lived in a time when the blind couldn't get much education. But Louis didn't give up. Instead, he invented a reading system of raised dots (点), which opened up a whole new world of knowledge to the blind.

Wasn't I the "blind" in my class, being made to learn like the "sighted" students? My thoughts spilled out and my pen started to dance. I completed the task within 40 minutes. Indeed, I was not different from others; I just needed a quieter place. If Louis could find his way out of his problems, why should I ever give up?

I didn't expect anything when I handed in my paper to Mrs. Smith, so it was quite a surprise when it came back to me the next day--- with an "A" on it. At the bottom of the paper were these words: "See what you can do when you keep trying?"

Welcome to the future. It's year 2050 and Scotland is now powered completely by "clean" energy.

Homes have entire roofs made of solar materials, rooms are kept warm by wallpaper, and people go to and from work in electric and hydrogen(氢) cars.

Oil is still being found in the North Sea, but it's not now only used to keep aircraft flying. And a new 500-mile underwater link with Iceland has been built to catch heat from the hot springs. There's still a role for king coal—but the black diamonds are now environment-friendly.

People will be able to import the electricity they need and export any excess(超过的量) they make through rooftop windmills(风车). New technology will store electricity better and provide it on demand. Heat exchangers will provide heating and hot water.

Harmful carbon dioxide waste is being piped offshore to St Fergus and from there into some of the remaining oil—producing fields to be stored safely without entering the atmosphere. Gas remains the preferred energy source of industry and is now shipped in liquid form. But hydrogen is imported through pipelines from France and from a geothermal(地热的) plant in Iceland.

Hydrogen-fuelled cars have become popular. Electric bikes are common in cities using the new urban two-wheel network. Electric vehicles have become common, and their performances have been improved because of the developments in electrical drive technology like high-temperature super conducting motors. Many people leave their vehicles in a giant park where they can be recharged from the national electrical system. Oilseed rape is widely grown to fuel some motors.

28. What does the "the black diamonds" in paragraph 2 mean ?
A. The hot springs B. Oil C. Coal D. Oil and coal
29. Which sources of energy play a more important role in people's daily life in the future ?

30. The means of transport people use in 2050 do not include _____.

A. windmills      B. electric bikes      C. hydrogen-fuelled cars      D. aircraft

31. The passage is written to tell us in the future_____.

- A. life will be better and better
- B. the energy will become cleaner and cleaner
- C. people will use some new sources of energy
- D. people will pay more attention to the environment

Why do people drink too much, eat too much, smoke cigarettes or take drugs? What's to blame for all the bad behavior? Most people would say that, while these self-destructive acts can have many root causes, they all have one obvious thing in common: they are all examples of failures of self-control, lacking the will power to resist them.

According to a recent study, however, if you really think about it, something about that simple answer doesn't quite make sense. In fact, it turns out that sometimes it's having will power that really gets you into trouble.

Think back to the time you took your very first sip of beer. Disgusting, wasn't it? When my father gave me my first taste of beer as a teenager, I wondered why anyone would voluntarily drink it. And smoking? No one enjoys their first cigarette — it tastes awful. So even though smoking, and drinking alcohol or coffee can become temptation (诱惑) that you need will-power to resist, they never, ever start out that way.

Just getting past those first horrible experiences actually requires a lot of self-control. Ironically (讽刺的是), only those who can control themselves well, rather than give in to them, can ever come to someday develop a "taste" for Budweiser beer, Marlboro cigarettes, or dark-roasted Starbucks coffee. We do it for social acceptance. We force ourselves to consume alcohol, cigarettes, coffee and even illegal drugs, in order to seem experienced, grown-up, and cool.

These bad habits aren't self-control failures---far from it. They are voluntary choices, and they are in fact self-control successes. Self-control is simply a tool to be put to some use, helpful or harmful. To live happy and productive lives, we need to develop not only our self-control, but also the wisdom to make good decisions about when and where to apply it.

32. What do most people think causes bad behavior?

- A. Being forced by others.
- B. Not having enough will power.
- C. Enjoying their first experiences.
- D. Following the examples of their friends.

33. The author mentions his experience in the third paragraph to prove ____.

- A. will power helps develop bad habits sometimes
- B. drinking beer is harmful to the health of teenagers
- C. self-control should be developed when one is young
- D. everyone can be challenged by different temptations

34. In the last paragraph, the author stresses that ____.

- A. without self-control, no one can succeed

- B. bad habits don't always lead to bad results
C. applying self-control correctly is important
D. people can develop wisdom from bad behavior
35. What would be the best title for the passage?
A. My First Sip of Beer                      B. Do You Have Will Power ?
C. Will Power Benefits Us                  D. Dark Side of Self-control

Have you ever felt a sudden feeling of joy because you heard a favorite song playing? Then you know that music can have a strong effect on your emotions. 36 It can help get you out of a bad mood or stay in a good one, says Alicia Ann Clair, professor at the University of Kansas.

37 To cheer up, listen to Latin music or anything with a strong beat or a fast speed 38 When you want to relax after a busy day, music with a slower speed can calm you down.

Listen to calming music before you start any stressful activities, advises Dr. Clair. "Once you're in a good state of mind, it's easier to keep it." You can lower stress at work with music, too, by playing relaxing tunes. 39 "If you listen to them all day long, you'll stop noticing them," Dr. Clair explains. Then the music won't have any effect.

40 "To feel energetic, start with something relaxing, and then gradually increase the speed and beat," says Dr. Clair. For example, first play some nice slow love songs, and then listen to something more energetic. When you want to calm down after a busy week at work, just do the opposite.

- A. Music can also help you relax and feel active.
B. Try to take advantage of this power of music.
C. But only play them when you really need them.
D. Loud and fast music can fill you with energy.
E. There are different kinds of music around the world.
F. Put on your favorite song, but only if it is one that can lift your spirits.
G. You can change your mood by changing from one kind of music to another.

第一节 完形填空（共 20 小题；每小题 1.5 分，满分 30 分）

Life is a happy journey. For often, achieving what you set out to do is not the most 41 thing.

Two brothers decided to dig a 42 hole behind their house. As they were 43, a couple of older boys stopped by to watch.

"What are you doing?" asked one of the visitors.

"We plan to dig a hole all the way through the 44!" one of the brothers volunteered excitedly.

The older boys began to 45, telling the younger ones that it was 46.

After a long silence, one of the diggers 47 up a jar full of spiders, worms and a wide variety of insects. He 48 the lid (盖子) and showed the wonderful 49 to the older boys.

Then he said quietly and confidently, “ 50 we can't dig all the way through the earth, look at what we found along the way!”

Their goal was far too ambitious, but it did cause them to dig. And that is 51 a goal is for — to cause us to 52 in the direction we have chosen; 53, to set us digging!

But not every goal will be fully 54. Not every job will end 55. Not every hope will come to pass. Not every love will last. Not every dream will be 56.

But when you fail to reach your 57, perhaps you can say, “Yes, but look at what I found along the way! 58 at the wonderful things which have come into my life 59 I try to do something!”

It is in the 60 that life is lived. And I believe it is joy in the journey, in the end, that truly matters.
