Passage 3

Grandpa and I sat side by side, watching the sun go down behind the old Texaco service station across the busy street, a street that I had never been allowed to cross unless followed by an adult(成年人), or at the very least, an older brother or sister. On that day everything changed.

"Thirsty?" Grandpa asked, never removing(拿下) the pipe from his mouth.

"Yes," was my reply.

"How would you like to run over to the gas station there and get me a bottle of Coke?"

I couldn't believe my ears. Had I heard it right? Was he talking to me? Still, Grandpa was thirsty...

"Okay," I replied shyly, already wondering how I would get across the street. Surely Grandpa was going to come with me. He said I was to go alone. I'd never done that before and it scared(使受惊) me a little. But I was a brave little boy.

He gave me a dime(一角硬币), stood up and looked both ways along the street. When he was sure the road was clear, he told me to cross. I thought I'd never make it, but I did. Now I was on the other side, but next came the garage. I went inside and looked around me. Hmm, not so strange. I'd been in a garage before, with my father. I located(找到…… 的位置) the Coke machine and put in my dime. Clunk(噔的一声)! Out the bottle came. Coke in hand, I proudly marched(行进) back out into the early evening dusk(黄昏). Grandpa was waiting patiently(耐心地). He smiled.

I made it back to the other side and Grandpa shared the Coke with me. It was the coldest, most refreshing(使人精神振作的) drink I ever tasted. I was very happy. But I was happy about more than the delicious Coke. I had begun to grow up a little—thanks to Grandpa, and a little to myself.

()37.	The	boy	used	to	be	allowed	to	cross	the	street

- A. if he wanted to buy a Coke
- B. before the sun went down
- C. when he was with her younger brother
- D. when he was followed by an adult
- ()38. Why couldn't the boy believe his ears when Grandpa asked him to buy a Coke?
 - A. Because he thought Grandpa should buy him a Coke.
 - B. Because he had never been allowed to cross the street alone.
 - C. Because he thought he was talking to someone else.
 - D. Because he thought the gas station was too far away.
- ()39. When the boy was crossing the street, Grandpa _____.
 - A. was smoking without removing the pipe from his mouth
 - B. was looking for a dime in his pocket
 - C. was watching over him carefully
 - D. was enjoying the evening
- ()40. The boy was very happy when he came back with the Coke mainly because _____
 - A. Grandpa had been waiting for him patiently
 - B. Grandpa gave him the Coke as a reward

D. he felt pleased with what he had done	e
)41. The best title for the passage is "
A. Best Drink Ever	B. Crossing the Street Alone
C. A Dime	D. A Bottle of Coke
B. 阅读短文,根据短文内容,从所给的六个说	选项中选出可以填入空白处的最佳选项,使短
意思完整、连贯。(有两项为多余选项)
assage 4
"Thank you" is widely used in a modern meone passes the newspaper on the table to	Il when someone says you have hought a nice hen someone says you have done your work we ning, or your city is very beautiful, you should etween parents and children, brothers and sist omeone wants to walk past you without touch	it behind you, you should get to know that hing you. It is not polite to interrupt(打断)
thers while they are talking. If you want to	have a word with one of them, please say Excuse me" first, and then begin to talk. 45.
Let's say "Thank you" and "Excuse me" of	on the right occasion(场合).
4. "Thank you" is used not only between frien	ds.
3. We like them very much.
C. You should also do so when you want to	cough or make any unpleasant noise before others.
D. You should say "Thank you" when others h	elp you or say something kind to you.
E. "Excuse me" is also used as often as "Than
F. It's important to use "Thank you" and "Ex
V. 情景交际(本题共5小题;每小题2分,共10	(分)
根据对话内容,从所给的七个选项中选出可	可以填入空白处的最佳选项,使对话内容完整。
有两项为多余选项)
Hi, Jim. I haven't seen you for a long time. 46.	A. Where have you been?
3. I have been to the Grand Canyon.	B. When did you come back?
1: Really? 47.	C. What did you see?
3: I came back two days ago.	D. Did you have a good journey?
A:48.	E. Did you get any Christmas presents?
3. Yes. I saw many beautiful places during	F. When are you going to return to school?
the flight and I enjoyed myself on	G. How long is the Grand Canyon?
Christmas Day.	G. How long is the craim of the
A:49. B: Certainly! And some of the presents are ver	v nice.
A:50. B: I've already returned to school. I must wor	k hard at my Chinese.
D: I ve already leturned to school. I must wor

C. the cold Coke made him feel refreshed