第三部分 阅读理解 (共 15 小题; 每小题 2 分, 满分 30 分)

阅读下面短文, 从短文后各题所给的四个选项中, 选出最佳答案。

A

Suppose a key man in your firm had just met with a terrible accident. The doctor tells you that this man upon whom you depend for directing sales, checking your books (账目) or for performing some other important roles, will be laid up for months. You'd have to replace him, wouldn't you? And probably at a pay about equal to his?

Then you'd be faced with double paying for one job because stopping the pay of an injured man would simply be out of the question.

You can prevent this kind of unproductive outgoings (支出) on your payroll by providing your key man with the protection of Travelers Business Accident Insurance!

This insurance provides total medical expense and a weekly income in case a key man is disabled for some time. Should the disability prove everlasting, an income for life is certainty. Why not make out a list of your key man now? Then get together with Travelers Insurance Company, and let us tell you how little it costs to apply this much needed protection to your business.

Write and we'll serve you!

"Come in, Kim. Have a seat, please," said Bill Williams, the manager. This was Kim's first experience with an assessment. After only six months he was due for a raise if this assessment was satisfactory.

"Kim," began Bill William, "I'm very pleased with the quality of your work. I have nothing but praise for your devotion and your hard work. My only concern is that you are not active enough in putting forward your suggestions."

"But," replied Kim, "I have always completed every assignment you have given me, Mr. Williams."

"I know that, Kim. And please, call me Bill. But what I expect is for you to think independently and introduce new ideas. I need more input from you--- more feedback on how things are going. I don't need a "yes man". You never tell me what you think. You just smile as though everything is fine."

"But," said Kim, "I feel that since you are my superior, it would be presumptuous of me to tell you what to do."

"I'm not asking you to tell me what to do, but what you think we could do. To make suggestions, I employed you because I respect your experience in this field, but you are not communicating your thoughts to me."

"Yes, I see. I'm not accustomed to this, but I will try to do as you say...Bill."

"Good then. I expect to hear more from you at staff meetings or at any other time you want to discuss an idea with me."

"Yes, of course. Thank you, Mr. Mill...Bill."

60. Kim is the sort of employee who _____.

- A. does not speak out his own ideas

- C. the manager is pleased with Kim's hard work and his suggestions
- D. Kim is likely to have a higher salary if he can pass the assessment

C

The house was quiet at 5 am and Tim's mother was asleep. Only the sound of the big freezer broke the quiet. He'd dreamt the cave last night. The purring (轻微颤动声) of the freezer had been the sea.

Tim pulled on a sweater and put some apples into his schoolbag. It was too early for breakfast. He'd eat after he'd been through the cave, sitting on the rocks and staring at the sea.

He wished he had a proper pack. His schoolbag would have to do. What else? Sandwiches--but his mother might wake up if he started pulling out bread for sandwiches, she'd want to know why he had to leave so early. He settled for some biscuits, and left a note stuck to the table:

Gone to Michael's. Back tonight, Tim.

The sky was high and soft and light outside, though the sun still wasn't up. Even the highway up the hill was quiet as he made his way down the street. The wind from the sea was fresh and sweet.

The sand hills still breathed heat from yesterday's sun, though the top of the sand was cool. He ran down to the beach impatiently, but there was no one, just dry sand dancing in the early wind and seabirds marching up and down watching the waves.

The light changed suddenly. The first rays of sunlight stretched (延伸) across the sea. The sun was pushing its way over the edge of the world.

Over the first rocks, along to the point. Tim glanced back. The beach was still empty. The sun sailed higher in the sky.

He could see the cave now, even darker in the morning light. The sand turned silver then dark gold as the water flowed away from it. He had to force himself to go closer. Why was it so much more mysterious (神秘的) now? But it would be silly to go back now after so much trouble. He needn't go in all the way...

63. What did Tim do at the beginning of the story?

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| A. He left the house quietly. | B. He had breakfast at home. |
| C. He left a note on the freezer. | D. He put a sweater in his schoolbag |

- | | |
|---|---|
| A. had to leave the biscuits on the table | B. liked biscuits better than sandwiches |
| C. had to take biscuits instead of sandwiches | D. could only find some biscuits in the kitchen |

65. What made it possible for Tim to see the entry to the cave?

- | | |
|---|--|
| A. The height of the first rocks. | B. The ups and downs of the waves. |
| C. The change in the position of the sun. | D. The vast stretch of the sunlit beach. |

66. In the story, Tim's mood (心情) changed from_____.

- | | |
|------------------------------|------------------------------|
| A. loneliness to craziness | B. anxiousness to excitement |
| C. helplessness to happiness | D. eagerness to nervousness |

D

She is a cute, quiet girl. As a daughter, she has no secrets from her mother, who is very pleased with her. But recently she has become somewhat mysterious, not so open as before. She has a diary that she keeps under lock and key. Her mother cannot help worrying about her: what if she falls in love, which is too early for a girl of her age. After all she is reaching the “dangerous stage”. These thoughts have caused trouble in the mother’s mind.

One weekend the girl came to tell her mother that she was going to the cinema with her schoolmate and would return late. This was the first time her mother agreed, and she couldn’t help worrying because her daughter had never been away at night before. The mother waited till nine and her uneasiness got the upper hand over her. She decided to go out to meet her daughter.

Just at that moment the noise of a car pulling up drew her to the window and there was her daughter, waving goodbye to a boy. Her heart missed a beat. When the girl came in, the mother was watching TV, pretending nothing had happened. “Mum, I’m back!” “Yeah.” “Sorry to be late. Still sitting up?” “Yes. Oh, that ... Who’s that boy?” The daughter was stunned (发愣) for a moment. “Ah. It’s my monitor. He gave me a lift on his way home. Mum, I’m going to bed.” “All right. Go to sleep early.”

Next morning when the mother went to the daughter’s room to do some tidying, she found her diary left at her pillow. After a few minutes’ hesitation she eventually opened it to the entry of the night before. It reads: Mum, it’s love that made you ask, but it would show your understanding of me if you hadn’t.

Holding the diary, the mother fell in thought.

67. Which is the correct order according to the story?

- A. She took a lift back in her monitor’s car.
- B. She went to see a film with her classmate.
- C. She wrote a diary to her mother.
- D. Her mother pretended to watch TV.
- E. Her mother worried about her daughter’s returning late.

A. b, e, a, d, c B. e, b, a, d, c C. b, a, e, d, c D. b, e, a, c, d

68. Which of the following is TRUE according to the story?

- A. The girl knew her mother would ask her the question about the boy.
- B. What the daughter did recently worried her mother.
- C. The mother was eager to read her daughter’s diary the next day.
- D. The girl’s diary was always unlocked.

69. The main purpose of this article is to show that parents should _____.

- A. care about what their children really think and feel
- B. not give much freedom to their children
- C. talk with their children about their early love
- D. keep silent about their children’s privacy

70. Which can be the best title for this story?

- A. Mother's True Love
C. To Ask Or Not To Ask

- B. Early Love Between students
D. Dangerous Age

第二节（共 5 小题；每个小题 2 分。满分 10 分）

根据短文内容，从短文后的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。

When I was a child, I often dreamed of the time when I could leave home and escape to the city. We lived on a farm. In winter we were quite cut off from outside world. As soon as I left school, I packed my bags and moved to the capital. 71

72 It costs so much to go out, not to mention basics like food and housing. Another disadvantage is pollution, I suffer from a kind of throat illness, and the air is so bad that I am afraid to go outside. 73 Although I have a car, I seldom use it because of the traffic jams. One choice is to go by bicycle, but that can be quite dangerous.

74 First, there is so much to do in the city, whatever taste in culture or entertainment. Besides, there are wonderful jobs and greater chances of moving to a more important job or position. Finally, if you like shopping, the variety of goods is very surprising--- and, what is more, shops are often only a short walk away.

Is life better then, in the city? Perhaps it is, when you are in your teens or twenties. However, as you get older, the peace of the countryside may seem preferable. 75

- A. One big disadvantage is money.
B. Of course there are advantages.
C. Besides, I was used to the city life.
D. Then there is the problem of traveling round.
E. I can remember the life on the farm forever.
F. I certainly hope to move back to the countryside soon.
G. However, I soon discovered that my life had its disadvantages too.

第 II 卷（非选择题，共 35 分）

第四部分：写作（共两节，满分 35 分）

Tom saw an advertisement on a newspaper for a bicycle. Then he went to the shop where had put the advertisement on and ask to see one of the wonderful bicycles. The shopkeeper was very happy to show one to Tom, who examined it carefully, saying, "There isn't a lamp on this bicycle, and there is one on the bicycle in your advertisement. "Yes, sir," answered a shopkeeper, "but the lamp isn't including in the price of the bicycle. It's an extra." "Not included?" Tom said angrily. "But that's not honest. If the lamp is in the advertisement, there should have been included in the price you give it." "Well, sir," answered the shopkeeper calm, "there is a girl on the bicycle in our advertisement, but we don't supply one of them with the bicycle too."

Dear editor,

I'm writing to tell you about the discussion we have had about whether an entrance fee should be charged for parks. 60% of us schoolmates think that an entrance fee do not meet people's expectations, for a park is considered to be a place where the public can have a good time when they are not busy either at home or at work. If an entrance fee must be paid by the visitors for a park, it will be necessary to build a gate and surrounding walls. In the end a city will take on a bad look. 40% of us schoolmates think that an entrance fee can be accepted, but it must not be too expensive. The money from ticket selling can be used for paying the gardeners in the park and buying some other kinds of flowers and trees.

With regard to myself, I think an entrance fee is useful, for it can be used to protect a park. Do we share the same opinion, dear editor?

Yours truly,
Li Hua
