A

Mary and her husband Dimitri lived in the small village of Perachora in southern Greece. One of Mary's prize possessions was a little white lamb which her husband had given her. She kept it tied to a tree in a field during the day and went to fetch it every evening. One evening, however, the lamb was missing. The rope had been cut, so it was obvious that the lamb had been stolen.

When Dimitri came in from the fields, his wife told him what had happened. Dimitri at once set out to find the thief. He knew it would not prove difficult in such a small village. After telling several of his friends about the theft, Dimitri found out that his neighbor, Aleko, had suddenly acquired a new lamb. Dimitri immediately went to Aleko's house and angrily accused him of stealing the lamb. He told him he had better return it or he would call the police. Aleko denied taking it and led Dimitri into his backyard. It was true that he had just bought a lamb, he explained, but his lamb was black. Ashamed of having acted so rashly, Dimitri apologized to Aleko for having accused him. While they were talking it began to rain and Dimitri stayed in Aleko's house until the rain stopped. When he went outside half an hour later, he was astonished to find that the little black lamb was almost white. Its wool, which had been dyed black, had been washed clean by the rain!

21. Where did Mary find the little lamb missing?
A. in the village. B. in the field. C. in a forest. D. in the backyard.
22. Why did Dimitri apologize to Aleko after accusing him?
A. because they were neighbors for years
B. because he had found the lost lamb
C. because he thought he misunderstood Aleko
D. because the lamb was actually not theirs
23. What kind of person is Aleko according to the story?
A. dishonest B. funny C. faithful D. rude
24. What might happen in the end of the story?
A. Mary didn't find her little lamb.
B. Aleko was arrested by the police.
C. Dimitri brought the little lamb back home.
D. The black lamb became white again the moment the rain stopped.

C

The Walkman has become a new fashion on campus. I had long dreamed of owning a Walkman. The more Walkman owners were on campus, the stronger my desire became. Finally, during one of my monthly visits home, I appealed to my parents to let me buy one, "Dad, mom, I...I want to buy a Walkman... the one for..."

I swallowed the rest of my words. Did I really need to explain what a Walkman was? Surely everybody knew!

At first there was no response from my parents. But my little brother responded eagerly, "Me too!"

Then finally my dad spoke, "what! What is it for? This little stuff breaks down soon after you get it! It's an absolutely useless expense..."

Then, I had an idea. When the summer vacation came, I lied to my parents that I couldn't stay home, because the school had supplementary programs. As a result, my part-time job earned me a handsome Sony Walkman that summer.

I was at home the night before my new school when mom came into my room. She sat on my bed, and patted me on my shoulder. Then she handed me a small parcel. "Take this. Don't tell your father...Now, study hard, okay?" she whispered.

"Mom, how did you...?" I asked.

"It's from my own savings. Your father doesn't know." I sat alone for a long time with my new Walkman, weeping silently.

I wrapped up the Walkman carefully when I went back to school. I decided to give up my part-time job so that I could study harder for my parents, for my dream. My motivation to study has never been so strong.

On another day, I was studying in my dorm, when a classmate told me that my father was waiting for me downstairs. I ran downstairs anxiously, worried that something had happened at home, as my father had never come to see me at school before. But he handed me a parcel, and stammered, "Hold this...good for study, eh...Everything is fine at home...Don't call us too much, if not necessary..." After asking me about my study and my health, he left.

I sat down and unwrapped the parcel. I was stunned to find a brand new Walkman inside. It was neatly packed, the price tag still attached. Suddenly I broke down in tears.

29. From paragraph 5 we can infer the character of the writer is _____ .

- A. clever B. practical C. hardworking D. disappointed

30. Which of the following facts touched the writer most?

- A. Her brother wanted to own a Walkman too.
B. Her father refused to buy a Walkman.
C. Her father bought her a Walkman at last.
D. Her mother bought her a new Walkman with her own money.

31. It can be inferred from the passage that _____ .

- A. The writer would share the Walkmans with her brother.
B. the writer must make good use of the Walkman.
C. the writer was sure to work harder at her lessons to satisfy her parents.
D. the writer didn't like a Walkman any more from then on.

D

Apples are the second most valuable fruit crop in the United States, after oranges. Autumn is a time when fresh apples are everywhere. They are not native to the country. Research shows that apples came from Central Asia. But they are believed to have been grown in America since the early 1600s.

Washington State produces the country's biggest apple crop. New York and Michigan are also big producers. Among nations, China is the biggest grower followed by the United States and Turkey.

This year, American growers expect to harvest nearly four thousand five hundred million kilograms of apples. That is a little less than last year's record harvest.

Apples are a member of the rose family. Apples come in red, green and yellow colors. About two thousand five hundred kinds grow in the United States. Three times that number are grown around the world.

In the United States, three fourths of apples are eaten fresh. Some are made into sweet foods like apple pie. The rest are processed to make products such as apple juice, apple cider, apple sauce(酱汁) and vinegar.

A popular saying goes: "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." Apples are a healthy food. For one thing, they are high in fiber, mainly in the skin.

John Chapman was born in Massachusetts in 1774, who was an early American hero. He grew apple trees on land he owned in Ohio and Indiana. He traveled with settlers as they moved West. He supplied them with apple seeds and young trees and, it is said, religion. Later, he was known to almost everyone as Johnny Appleseed.

32. Which state in America produces the most apples?
A. Indiana B. Washington C. Michigan. D. New York.
33. We know from the passage that _____.
A. there are nearly 6,000 kinds of apples in the world
B. apples spread to other parts of the world from Turkey
C. China grows more apples than any other country
D. Johnny Appleseed became famous as a churchman
34. The fifth paragraph is mainly about _____.
A. the eating habits of Americans
B. the popularity of American foods
C. the use Americans make of apples
D. the major steps in processing apples
35. The saying "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" really means _____.
A. apples are a necessary part of people's diets
B. apples usually are most doctors' favorite fruit
C. apples are very effective in fighting diseases
D. apples contain a lot of nutrition in them

第二节（共5小题；每小题2分，满分10分）

根据短文内容，从短文后的选项中选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。

Traveling Tips

Whether you're taking a quick trip with your family or studying abroad for several months, it's easier to get sick when you're in a new place because your body hasn't had a chance to adjust to the food, water, and air in a new environment. 36 Here are some tips on keeping your travel experiences as healthy as possible.

1. Keep healthy.

The stress and excitement of travel can make you more likely to get sick, but if you follow a few simple tips, you're more likely to stay healthy throughout your trip. Contact your doctor or the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) for a list of necessary vaccinations (疫苗接种). 37 Therefore, the first thing you should do if you're heading overseas is to find out what kinds of vaccinations you'll need in advance.

2. 38

So what foods are safe to eat? Any foods that have been boiled are generally safe. Avoid eating uncooked or undercooked meat. Stay away from foods that require a lot of handling before serving.

What about drinks while traveling? Many experts suggest you drink only bottled water when traveling. If you need to use tap water, you should boil it or purify it first. 39

3. Basic safety.

It's easy to let your guard down when you travel. After all, you're more relaxed and there are so many new sights to focus on. In addition to paying attention to your personal safety, you'll need to reset your thinking when it comes to traffic safety, too. 40 In some countries, people drive on the opposite side of the road and you'll need to be aware of this before you cross the street.

- A. Different countries have different requirement.
- B. Safe foods and drinks.
- C. Altitude sickness (高原病) is caused by a decrease in oxygen.
- D. Even if you're brushing your teeth, take steps to ensure the water is safe first.
- E. Practice these healthy tips and you can focus on the scenery not the medical emergencies.
- F. The rules of the road aren't the same overseas as they are at home.
- G. Traveling can bring you in contact with things that your body isn't used to.

第三部分 英语知识运用（共两节，满分 45 分）

This is the story of two frogs. One frog was fat and the other skinny(瘦的). One day, while searching for 41, they jumped into a vat (大桶) of milk by 42. They couldn't get out, as the sides were too 43, so they were just swimming around.

The fat frog said to the skinny frog, "Brother frog, there's no use 44 any longer. We're just going to 45, so we might as well give up." The skinny frog replied, "Hold on brother and keep paddling. 46 will get us out." And they continued paddling for hours.

After a while, the fat frog said, "Brother frog, there's no use. I'm becoming very 47 now. I'm just going to stop paddling and drown. It's 48 and nobody's working. We're 49. There's no possible way out of here." But the thin frog said, "Keep 50. Keep paddling. Something will happen. Keep paddling."

Another couple of 51 passed. The fat frog said, "I can't go on any longer. There's no use in doing it 52 we're going to drown anyway. What's the use?" And the fat frog 53. He gave up. And he drowned in the milk. But the thin frog kept on paddling.

Ten minutes later, the 54 frog felt something solid 55 his feet. He had stirred the milk into butter and he 56 out of the vat.

Everyone will 57 meet some hardship along the way to success. One of the 58 to getting through those hard moments is to keep trying. So, next time you 59 difficulties, you need to grit(咬紧) your teeth and stick to your 60, and your efforts and perseverance will pay off.

第三部分 英语知识运用（共两节，满分 45 分）

第二节（共 10 小题；每小题 1.5 分，满分 15 分）

阅读下面材料，在空白处填入适当的内容（1 个单词）或括号内单词的正确形式。

Mr.Bean is an 61 (international) recognized comedy character on TV and in films. His humor is always made clear through a series of simple and funny acts that rely purely 62 body language.

One of my favorite shows is that Mr.Bean has a meal in a fancy restaurant. After being 63 (seat) at his table, Mr.Bean takes out a card, writes a few words on it, seals(密封) it in an envelope and places it on the table. After a moment, he looks back at the envelope but this time he looks surprised, as if he did not know 64 was there. He opens it to find a birthday card and delightedly puts it on the table for everyone to see.

After that he takes all the money out of his wallet, counts it and puts it in a saucer(茶托). Then he orders a dish called “steak tartare”. When the dish 65 (arrive), he is shocked to discover that “steak tartare” is actually raw hamburger. He makes an attempt 66 (eat) it, but it is clear that he finds the taste truly disgusting. He cannot hide his feelings, except 67 the waiter asks if everything is all right. When this happens, he smiles and nods, 68 (indicate) that everything is fine. When the waiter is not looking, however, he busies himself hiding 69 raw meat anywhere he can reach. He becomes so desperate (不顾一切的) in the end 70 he even hides some inside the purse of a woman sitting near him and throws some down the trousers of the restaurant’s violinist!

Dear Franklin,

How are you doing? I'm writing to sincerely invite you to our English party to be held on March 24th at the school stadium, which is a good chance to display our English talent and motivate students' interest in English learning. During the party you will have a feast of varieties of English activities well prepared by ourselves, including reciting English poems and singing famous English songs, which I think will surely give you a big surprise. Besides, I'd like to remind you that the party starts at 6:30 pm and ends at 8:00 pm, so please come on time if it is convenient for you.

Looking forward to sharing with you the pleasant time in the party!

Yours,
LiHua

录音原文

Text 1

W: I'm excited for our vacation. Would you like to stay in a hotel by the city, the water, or the country?

M: The water and country are nice, but I'd prefer the city. (1)

Text 2

W: Something smells great! When will dinner be ready?

M: The vegetables are ready, (2) but the meat isn't quite done cooking yet. And the potatoes are still too hot to touch.

Text 3

W: Did you just see that airplane? I think it crashed into those trees over there. (3)

M: I don't believe you. All I see in the trees are birds.

W: Look, there's smoke!

Text 4

W: Hey, Karl. What are you doing?

M: I'm studying. We have a test in class today.

W: We do? That's news to me! (4)

Text 5

W: I can't believe you ordered two hamburgers for dinner! You don't need to eat that much.

M: One is for my lunch tomorrow. I'm taking a trip to London, but the food on the train is really expensive. (5)

Text 6

M: Mom, I need some new clothes. Mine are all too small now.

W: Really? We just went shopping for new clothes a few months ago!

M: I know, but I guess I'm growing really fast. Look at how short my pants are!

W: Well, we can go on Saturday. What else do you need?

M: I need shirts. (6) But I can't go on Saturday because that's when my soccer game is, remember?

W: Let's go on Sunday then, (7) or would Friday after school work?

M: Sunday works fine. (7)

W: What about your new jacket and your new shoes? Are they also too small now?

M: No, those fit fine.

Text 7

W: I know it's early in the morning, but I'm calling to give you my new number. (8) I've been getting strange calls in the middle of the night, so I'm changing it.

M: That's scary!

W: I know. Do you have a pen and paper?

M: Yes. Also, what time is the work meeting today?

W: Sometime this afternoon. Can you give me directions to the new office?

M: Sure, let me get your number first. (9)

Text 8

W: Hey, Dave, what's wrong?

M: I'm in a bad mood because my favorite team lost last night. (10)

W: The Giants? Did you watch the game?

M: I was watching it, but my team was losing so bad that I couldn't watch it anymore.

W: You didn't stay up and watch the end of the game?

M: No, I ate some ice cream and went to bed. (11)

W: Well, I had a pizza and a Coke. And I watched the whole game.

M: I'm sure they lost.

W: Maybe you should have stayed up. You'd better go online and check the scores. (12) I'm sure it will cheer you up...

Text 9

W: Hi, Heath. What's up with the roses?

M: Hi, Sandy. I'm just returning them to the local flower shop. (13)

W: Really? Why? They are so lovely!

M: Tonight is my mother's birthday. Her two twin sisters, my Aunt Daisy and my Aunt Lily, will come for the party. But my brother bought roses for all of them.

W: That was nice of him.

M: You don't understand. My grandmother's name is Flora, (14) and she named all her daughters after flowers. (15) You can't buy roses for my aunts. You can only buy roses for my mother, because her name is Rose.

W: So, for their birthdays, you buy flowers for each of them that match their names. That is a cute tradition.

M: Yes, we do it every year.

W: Well, I know a very nice girl who would really love to have some roses, if you have any extras, that is...

M: OK, Sandy. You can have some of these. But you have to help me get some other flowers for my aunts. (16) I'm terrible at picking out flowers.

W: Deal! (16)

Text 10(第 20 题为推断题)

I'm here today to announce a new product. This is unlike anything you've ever seen before. Here, seen in public for the first time, is Susie the Robot! Susie can do many different things. She can be your alarm clock and personal planner. She can help you at home with dinner or cleaning. She can walk the dog, drive a car, (17) and make coffee. She can also answer the telephone, set the table, and water the plants. You can program her to speak six different languages, and she can even teach you how to speak three of them! (18) Susie can connect to the Internet at any time, so don't be afraid to let her check your Facebook! In order for Susie to do her best work, she needs to be turned off and charged at night, or for at least 10 hours a day. She can run up to 14 hours without charging. (19)
